NORWAY AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Knight and children, Helen, George and May, arrived from Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass., Monday night and remained a few days at the Haydon Cottage, "The Weymouth." They plan to return later in the season for an extended visit. Madelyn Hayden, who has been spending a few weeks with relatives at Manchester, came with them. Major Lucian W. Blanchard of Rumford, but well known in Norway as "County Attorney," who for nearly a year has been located at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., is reported in ill health. Major Blanchard held a commission in the Maine National Guard, was on the Mexican border with the Second Maine Regiment, and was in the service immediately after our declaration of war. He was summoned to Battle Creek to act as judge advocate, and has served there nearly a year, but has been in the hospital much of the time. Mrs. Blanchard and their daughter came with him since December, and they are on the way home by easy stages.

Hiram Wiles is putting in a cement wall for David O. Jordan to replace the one of brick which is ready to fall onto the new sidewalk. An apple tree at least 35 years old was removed during the process of construction. When Mr. Jordan built on this Whitman street lot 25 years ago the tree was a youngster with natural fruit. After grafting his lawn he grafted a fine variety into the trunk with marked success. When the tree was removed a limb was found grown around a telephone wire. The stub remains on the line as the limb was cut away from both sides.

A party of eight who have been occupying the Jades cottage by the lake during the past two weeks, returned to their homes, Wednesday. Among their number were John H. Vallette, manager of the Attleboro, (Mass.) Daily Sun and Mr. and Mrs. DeLaur, also from Attleboro, Mass.

Ninety-five couples attended the social dance in the Opera House, Tuesday evening. Parties motored from Bethel, Brighton, Oxford and Poland Spring. Excellent music was furnished by an orchestra of four, which included Grace Dean, violin, Roy Edwards, cornet, Harold A. Anderson, piano, Geo. Soper, drums. It was an informal affair and everybody thoroughly enjoyed the evening. A spot light dance will be given under the same management with the same orchestra Tuesday evening, Aug. 20. Novelty lighting effects are promised and formality will be unknown as usual.

Israel Klein of Berlin, N. H., was in town with his family, Sunday. The big New Moon State fair at Lewiston, Sept. 17-20, is being featured in this vicinity as never before. Street banners and auto advertising are conspicuous. Pres. L. M. Carroll intends to shake the grasses from an institution long since gone into the discard as a "rip show."

George W. Horne of Lewiston has been discharged from the Boston hospital, where he recently underwent a surgical operation and is now at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. A. Drake of North Weymouth, Mass. He is gaining rapidly and it is hoped that he will soon be able to join his family at their summer home at Pennessewassee Lake.

Town Brooks is spending a few days in town while home from Camp Wardsworth, Spartenburg, S. C. on a furlough. A war bill board is soon to be placed in Wetherell Park and will be under the supervision of Ruth Cummings, who is on the committee for Public Safety.

A party of young ladies including Adeline DeCoster, Ruth Albers, Gertrude Jope and Olive Stone spent the weekend at Camp Escumaine, Sand Pond. Mrs. Frank DeCoster and son, Howard were Sunday guests at the camp.

Doris Merrill and Doris Haskell are spending the week at South Woodstock, the guests of Miss Merrill's uncle, Frank Davis and family.

Fred Smith is having a vacation from the National Bank, and is spending the week with his family at the Penley cottage, Falmouth Forester.

Blanchy Aldren of Lynn, who formerly worked at the B. F. Spinnery & Co. factory and later at the Carroll, Jellerson factory in Norway, is the guest in the family of Fred Lovejoy.

Charles L. Sellers, field secretary representing the Anti-Saloon League of Annapolis, with national headquarters at Westerville, Ohio, was in town, Tuesday. Mr. Sellers has made arrangements to hold meetings in many Oxford County towns. Hon. Minor Wallace of Arkansas will speak at the Congregational church, Wednesday. He will also speak at West Paris, Bryant's Pond, Bethel, Oxford and Watford. Louis Albert Banks of Boston will hold a meeting at the Baptist church at South Paris, Sept. 29.

An appeal is being made to women between the age of 19 and 35 to hold themselves in readiness to train for service as nurses. Agnes J. Beal is the chairman of the woman's branch of the Oxford County Public Safety Committee and she has the literature pertaining to this appeal.

Mrs. Maggie Dyer received a letter Tuesday from her husband Sgt. Alfred J. Dyer, Co. D, 103rd Inf., who is in a hospital from wounds received July 13 while in charge of an outfit transporting food from the company kitchen to the boys in the front trenches. A shell burst over the wagon, killing two guards and severely injuring the driver. The whole story can be found in the Soldiers' Letters column.

Ethel May Shorey and Her Company For the first time the amusement-going people of Norway will have an opportunity of seeing an author in plays which she has written. Ethel May Shorey has successfully staged 30 different plays all of her own composition, and possibly has received more write-ups in newspapers than any artist that has visited New England in a long time. Not only is she a talented writer but a pleasing actress and has surrounded herself with a talented company. On Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 12, 13, she will be at the Norway, Opera House. On Monday night will be presented her latest play, "Somewhere—Over in France" with all special scenery, in fact, during her engagement, not a scene belonging to the Opera house is used. Between the acts will be introduced "big time" vaudeville acts, so there will be no stage waits. Reserved seats on sale at Stone's Drug Store.

Soldiers' Letters

Sergt. Alfred J. Dyer, Co. D, 103rd Inf., writes an interesting letter to his wife, Mrs. Maggie Dyer, Norway, about a thrilling experience with a mule team and a shrapnel shell. Sergt. Dyer was wounded, the two guards died before reaching the hospital and the driver severely injured. The story is well told in the following letter:

France, July 19

Dear Wife:
Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting along fairly well and hope this will find you and the children well. I have been intending to write to you for the last two days, but was unable to do so as it was hard to get paper just then. Jess Stiles brought me in a bag supply last night. I am still in the hospital at Vichy, perhaps you might have the place. We get good treatment here. I am able to get up and get around on crutches, so you see I am coming fine and my thumb is most healed up. I will tell you how it all happened and you will say that it was the hand of God that got me by so easy. I was taking in the ration as we cook for behind the lines and there was some terrific shell firing going on. One large boy dropped right behind the wagon. Sure enough that scared the mules and they ran away, throwing out the driver as he was hit by shrapnel. I grabbed the reins but was too late as I ran into a foot seared Frenchman with a big truck; sure, like all frogs he wanted all the road. Well, that threw me into a big shell hole wagon and all. I went out and one wheel went over my back, the other over my foot, smashing my foot.

The mules were going bent for election towards the lines and all I could see was bread, beans, meat and coffee stewed along the road, so the boys were out of luck for grub that night, it being the first time I ever lost my grub, don't you see so bad. Well, I got up and worked around when my thumb tingled, then I noticed it was bleeding, and sure enough I saw it was shrapnel. I went back to the driver, he was struck in the head, causing concussion of the brain, don't think he will pull through as the shrapnel ripped his head open. Then I went to the two guards that were behind the wagon. They were bad off, have heard since they went west on the way to the crossing station. It was some exciting believe me. An artillery wagon came along and took us to the hospital and on the way my foot began to pain me, it being numb all this time, then I began to think I was hurt more than I thought at first. My helmet was ripped where it was struck by shrapnel, so when I came to look back and think it over I think I was very lucky to get out so easy. It seems good to get into a hospital and have a rest as we have been on the go since last Feb. 5, quite a while and perhaps I am lucky being here as the boys must be getting it very hard as this drive takes us in our front.

I feel guilty being here and not with them as this was the big offensive and we went right in it, but I guess I am out of the game for a few weeks yet. I often wonder dear Grit how you are getting along with your farming. I wish it was so as I could come home and help until my foot is better again. Jess Stiles is here, but expects to go soon. He was in the gas attack we had and has not quite got over it yet. He will be in tonight to see me again. It does seem so good to see some one you know. Chester Gates left last week I was told by the nurse. He has gone south for six months as he has been shell shocked again. Well, dear, I guess I will close now. Will tell you how I am getting along in a day or so. Keep up your courage.

Yours truly,
Alf.

This is a letter received from Sergeant Lester L. Witham to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Witham of Oxford:

June 21, 1918, Somewhere in France

Dear Folks:
I guess you will think I have forgotten you folks entirely or have given up writing letters for I have been trying for a number of days to find time to write, but always something happens to stop me when I get started.

I am still in the finest health and happy and hope with all my heart this finds everybody at home well and happy too. We're having some very fine weather here now, a little rain, but not at all bad. We're in support of the front line trenches just at present and are living in a beautiful wood, mostly great oaks. It's the grandest place I've been at yet. There's barracks here but "Pip" and I have pitched our "pup tents" under a giant oak and are having a real vacation too.

We've got a real cozy little home. I tell you, but the worst of it is we are going to move soon. As usual no one knows where, then our camping will be over with.

You probably have heard before this time although I tried to keep it quiet, that I was gassed awhile ago and was put in the hospital, but it was nothing serious. Am back on duty and am the same old scout, tougher than a keg of nails. K. Bill is a long way from getting well.

"God darn it," marmie, I can't write for sour grapes, I cut my thumb on a jack knife this morning, right where my pen comes, so I have to hold it the same as I do my spoon when I'm eating chow. Is sister Addie at home now? I hope so, she will be so much company for you and dad. Do you see Frank and Alois often now? I'll bet the children are darlings. How I would love to see them. I am glad your garden is coming along good. Now don't work too hard, making nice things for me and make yourself sick. I hope daddy has a good job this summer. I think he would be better off in the shop than painting. Give him a big hug for me won't you? Must close with fondest love and best wishes to everybody. I am always your boy. Toodles.

The following is a copy of Capt. John E. Wilson's (103rd Infantry) letter to his brother, Chas. E. Wilson of Portland written July 9th.

My dear Brother:
Such a long time since I have heard from you, but we have grown used to that now. In fact we don't expect mail any more, it is useless to do so, for it never comes. However, we still "carry on" and always hope for some. Our regiment has been twice at grips with the "Boche" and beaten him to a standstill each time. The old lumbermen and Indians from down around Eastport fought like fiends. After the battle, an Indian in an advanced position found dead with four men dead. "Boche" in front of him. "Nuff sed" and that is the way all the boys from Maine fight. Some of them have passed over, but always with honor. They are splendid soldiers and deserve much praise. Great hardships have been their lot, but they bear it cheerfully and ever there is a look in their eyes that means trouble for the "Boche" when they meet him.

I shall have much to tell you when we meet. Wonderful things are constantly happening out there, some are comic. One laughs himself some one minute and feels like weeping the next, and so it goes on. I know you will be glad to hear that in every engagement, so far, the American troops have fought like veterans. The German army is a hodgepodge, who have been in this war for four years and I assure you will keep it up.

Please give my regards to the children and Ethel. If you should see George Smith tell him I will answer his letter soon. My best love to you all. Jack.

Hiram L. Libby
In the passing away of Hiram Leach Libby, Monday morning, Aug. 5, at 7:20 o'clock, at his late home on Deering street, there is removed one of Norway's oldest and highly respected citizens.

Mr. Libby was born November 27, 1834, in Norway, Me. His father, Susan (Hall) Libby, who were natives of Gorham. His early boyhood was spent in Harrison, where his parents resided, later moving to Watford. When quite young he entered the employ of Samuel Miller at South Watford to learn the trade of carriage building. He made a specialty of forging and setting axles and in that line had no superior. He worked for a time in Boston, also spent a year in Iowa, working at his trade, then returned to Watford, taking up his work there and combining it with farming.

On May 1, 1862, he was united in marriage to Margaret A. Kimball of Watford, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. John A. Douglass. They resided for a time in Watford, then moved to Portland, where Mr. Libby was in the employ of Joseph Russell for several years.

Moving to Bryant's Pond he formed a partnership with Joseph Whitman and was in business seven years and returned to Portland to take the employ of Mr. Russell. In 1878 he came to Norway, where he has conducted a carriage business for the last forty years. His failing eyesight compelled him to limit his activities to a great degree, but has in a measure continued his business, dealing with his customers he was square and they could rely on his recommendations.

Mr. Libby was a great lover of nature and his great enjoyment was a trip to the woods and stream. He was well informed on the subject. He was a great reader and had a richly stored mind and a remarkable memory, a quiet, honest, kind hearted man.

He was a life long republican, a member of Ancient Brothers Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 4, and the Machigonne Encampment, No. 1 of Portland for many years, up to the time of his passing away. Of his immediate relatives in Maine, he leaves a daughter, Minnie F. Libby, who has always resided with her husband and conducts a photographic business, a nephew, J. Frank Lang, vice president of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Portland and several nephews and nieces in Massachusetts and North Dakota, and numerous friends who have the pleasant memories of his long life of integrity and usefulness.

The funeral services were held at his late home, 27 Deering street on August 7 at 2 p. m., conducted by Rev. C. G. Miller, who also conducted the services of his wife, who passed away January 22, 1914. Mr. Libby's span of life was eighty-three years, eight months and eight days. The services were in charge of the Old Fellows and the bearers were Horace Mixer, his oldest living friend, Dennis Pike, Samuel Horvath and Vernon Webber. The flowers were many and beautiful, silent tokens of love and respect. Interment was at Pine Grove cemetery.

Marion LaFrance, who has been spending a short vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francois X. LaFrance on Fair street, returned to Lynn, Mass., Monday. She is a member of the office force at the Herick Ship Co.

C. G. Hinton has moved his family to Lewiston, where he will be employed on a farm. He was forced to give up shoe-making and the machinist trade for the present because of poor health.

Dr. Albert Thompson and his niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson, have been spending a few days in Stark, N. H., Dr. Thompson's old home.

Giles Frost, after a long period of service with the Norway & Paris Street Ry. Co., finished work Wednesday afternoon and accepted a place in the stock room at the Carroll, Jellerson Shoe Co.

Making Room 4, Cutting Room 2

The shades of evening were falling fast when the contestants in the Cobblers' League got their speed into play at the fair grounds Monday evening. In a five inning battle the almost invincible Makers swept the Cutters to the tune 4 to 1 in a really fast game. Darkness fell before they could start their rivals the dust when a nine inning contest can be run.

The Cutters entered the arena as the "Haverhill fashion plate" for a majority of the line up came recently from that shoe city and had the real flash of thoroughbreds. This being their first meeting as an organized unit, they were just getting cranked up when the end came. They made a good draw at that, raw edges were in evidence as a trifle set and joints need board oil, yet they are game.

In the first inning the makers cut the pack and drew two runs. Traffon scored on a hit into center, stole second, then capped third on a throw and came across as Banks whipped a clean hit into right Allen's wallop into right scored Banks, who had worked a bad throw, placing him safely on second. This out-clinched two more runs in the third inning when Payer was passed, went second on Purington's infield bunt, as a fielder's choice and crossed safely on a series of lazy throwing. Wing captured the last run for the breakers as Sweeney juggled his easy infield grounder and the young punter, which followed Trafon's short fielder's choice passed him over the pan.

The Cutters captured one in the first inning when Sweeney singled into right, purloined second and came across after Lebroke passed a safety into center. Sweeney again scored as a score runner in the fifth as he gained first on a high throw to first, vent second as Wing failed to recover an easy one from White, then scored on McPhee's single into left.

Stock Room 6, Lasters 5
The stock men of the Carroll, Jellerson Shoe Co. chased the jinx into the swamp and won their game over their rivals, the lasters at the fair grounds Wednesday evening. The score was 6 to 5 with only two gone in the fifth inning.

After hanging on the rear end in the Cobblers' League all summer, the stock men have gained a new lease by this first jinx pot for the season. The stock is selling today at par on the curb and may jump a point should they pull up another prize in their next offering. This is only the first jump given the lasters in several games which they have played. In fact, this fact adds sweetness to the victor's cup of happiness and their joy is unbounded as they contemplate the moral effect upon the jaded outfit. They now realize every cloud has a silver lining and this game has turned the sack cloth and ashes humiliation into a season with feasting and frolic.

The stock room quota opened their game as usual with nothing doing in score making. Descoteaux's lasters had a jump of three runs before they took up the scent. With this lead staring them in the eye like an old friend, they fell into something called good luck in the third session. Snow landed a hit behind second base, worked along to second and scored when Lebroke singled into right. He also came safely across on an error.

Short a half by Boulter and Fred Leagle's infield hit toward third. Descoteaux did a friendly stunt during the last out of the fifth, and the sand man fixed matters so the lasters couldn't tell a ball from a niggerhead machine. The long haulers got the deal with four easy runs. It was merely hit and sprint, as nobody could tell where the pill went unless knocked over. Burnell, Bancroft, Snow and Stevens slammed hits which carried them clean over the home platter for a win.

Brown secured the first tally for the lasters in the first inning on a hit, stolen base and wild pitch. In the third inning three more came across when Brown was hit by Snow, Bedard singled into center field, Descoteaux landed a wicked one in to left and Boulter picked the right field district for his safety. Their last offering in the fourth came again from Brown who rolled a fielder's choice to Snow and sent Vanout at second, but in several wild throws on the pulling game, success in coming home safely. This left them a two run lead which was considered perfectly safe, considering the poor reputation of the stock men as a team. The worm turned and like Napoleon of old, the mighty conquerors met their Waterloo.

THE KAISER'S WILL

I have a crown and countless gold,
Fair palaces and trappings fine,
All these I leave with my dear wife
To deck the Hohenzollern line.

Unto the world I leave the stars,
I leave the waves upon the beach,
I leave the sun up in the sky—
And other things I cannot reach.

I leave the orphan and the maimed
And hundreds rendered blind by me,
I leave the graves upon the land,
The dead sent to the deepest sea.

I leave the outraged, the insane,
I leave proud cities levelled low,
None other since the world began,
Has left behind such depths of woe.

I leave America to be
The vassal of my son and heir,
Where he shall reign in Washington,
And place his throne and sceptre there.

ODDIO!
Since the Amans have come
To fight upon this side the sea,
Their conduct maddens my royal mind
To change in this, my last decree.

The Crown Prince will not honor them,
By being their "All-Highest-High,"
Our Majesties will pass them by.
—Anna Pendexter Hayden.

SEND ME AWAY WITH A TAG
Send me away with a tag, little girl,
Brush the tears from out my eyes.
It's hard to confess, we must follow the rest,
The wind it has blown, and we're caught in the drift.

We hope it will be a short while,
We won't know how to fight, our knees shake with fright.
So please send me away with a smile,
Made up by Poodle, Gene, Mike, Pete.

Words by M. D. 5757 Clifton Int. boys
Norway. Music from "Send Me Away With a Smile."

PLEASE NOTICE
If you have a bit of news,
Send it in,
Or a joke that will amuse,
Send it in.

A story that is true,
An incident that's new,
We want to hear from you,
Send it in.

Will your story make us laugh!
Send it in.
Never mind about your style
If the story is worth the while.

Send it in,
Or a mayhap or cause a smile.
Send it in.
("Send it in" and the Advertiser will be the more interesting to our local people.)

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound, or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be removed, the tube is restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Church Struck by Lightning

After a very cold Sunday, August 4th, a cracking thunder shower visited this village early Monday morning. One bolt struck the front of the Baptist church knocking off the weather vane, stopping three sides of the clock face, leaving the fourth running all right. It came down the big pillars on the front and end which are badly splintered and breaking out glass in the windows. Probably the hard rain only prevented a serious fire.

May P. Burchfield, with a party of friends arrived here last week and will stop at Elmhurst until Miss Burchfield's new summer home is completed and ready to occupy.

Misses Louise and Emily Diman of Providence, R. I., who have spent several seasons in this village arrived last week and are at the Hubbard House.

Soldiers' Letters

The following letter is from M. M. Bigelow, who is in Paris, France, to his aunt, Mrs. Grace Stevens of South Paris: June 30, 1918, France.

Dear Auntie and all the others: Received your letter this morning and I don't have to tell you how glad I was to get all the news. I see that you are still alive in spite of the war. Well, so am I, but we had better eat, drink and be merry because tomorrow our friend, Fritz may sail over on his daily call and drop one of his calling cards on our domes. We have a regular Fritz which we like now. He comes over every morning at 9:30 in a big bombing machine. He is a real cute fellow and he just loves all the Yankee boys. All the time trying to give us something. Of course the anti air craft guns try to get him, but he is a little too fast for that. I was up to the front yesterday, great place, not half so much noise as back a little way. I guess I told you that I am now running a taxi buss for the 35th Division. They use us pretty well and we get good eats, so why worry?

The trip to the front was beautiful. I enjoyed every minute coming back. If you ever saw a Henry Ford travel you should have seen mine. Barney Oldfield never had a chance. The only place I went slow was through a large town where all the beautiful girls in France were having a picnic. I wanted to pitch tent there for the night, but we had to get back. The night trips over here take the cake. We are allowed no lights at all. I was coming down the side of the mountain the other night at 1:30 and I hit a rock and stood the Ford on one end. Gee, I thought I was on a bucking mule. I said goodbye Ford, home and folks all at once, but finally we came to an understanding and Henry finally decided to stay in the road. The only thing it did was to put my front wheels in line. They were slightly crooked before. I don't need any mechanic on my car.

Say Auntie, I am getting fat. I saw my section yesterday for the first time for a little while and they all said, "Oh look at the little fat boy." My motto, don't worry, get fat. Tell Uncle Bert to keep out of the war. We can lick those Germans without him. I wish you could see me with my new French steel helmet, I am a beaut. They are useful. You can use them for a water bucket, basket, hat, etc. I will send you a picture later.

We have good sport here with the French people. Six of us fellows sleep in an old building and I am the only one who can talk French at all. This morning at 4:30 a French kid of ten or twelve came in and woke us all up. He was walking in his sleep and when he awoke he was scared stiff. I thought somebody was murdered, so after questioning him a few minutes we decided to take him home. He was in his night shirt and it was cold. He had his pants in one hand and shoes, shirt, stockings, etc. I made him dress. On the way down to his house we found about all the clothes he ever owned strewn all along the road.

We expect to leave here in a day or so and go to another place a little nearer the front. This word front is a peculiar word. The place is all fronts, you don't stand much more chance of getting hit there than you do back a little way. Personally about the liveliest place to be now is Paris, real excitement there.

I suppose it is pretty quiet there at home. Well, we will just save up all of our fireworks for the grand celebration after the war. I guess you will have some celebration there on the fourth. We like to read about these affairs. I guess they are planning on launching a few boats that day also. Well keep it up we will need boats to come home in after the war.

Well, Auntie must close now, love to all, Murray.

Speaking About

Young Men's Clothes

Let it be understood that we do not confine our remarks exclusively to the men from twenty-one to thirty-one years of age. We are not unmindful of that old saying, "A man is just as young as he feels," and our observations while catering to the clothing needs of men have shown that

Hundreds of men to-day are boys at forty, young men at sixty, and in cities—in the heart of things—men of seventy even dress the young men's part.

So you Young Men of forty, fifty, sixty and seventy, it makes no difference what your particular tastes are or your build—we have clothes for the normal size, the big, the little, tall, short, stout or extra stout—and every suit or top coat you will find is distinctive in style and meets every requirement of fashion, as well, and as surely as they meet every requirement of quality and service.

There are some points of Mexican etiquette that to many foreigners accustomed to more brusque and businesslike ways seem often affected and unnecessary—such, for instance, as the oftentimes protracted discussions as to which of two gentlemen shall enter a street car or doorway first or which shall be allowed to walk on the outside of the sidewalk. As a rule, however, most foreigners who live for any length of time in a Latin country finally come to enjoy the more cordial forms of greeting.—Mexican Herald.

Lightning Did Freak Stunt

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cobb and daughter, Phoebe, were given a surprise when their house was struck by lightning, and they dropped safely to the floor unharmed.

This happened Monday morning during the heavy electrical shower that passed over Norway at 3.30. Lightning struck a tall pine tree less than a rod from their buildings, on Alpine Street. The fluid followed a root to the foundation and passed up into their sleeping room on the first floor. The oak bed holding the three occupants was first attacked. A leg and four casters ripped off, the clasp holding the spring also suffered and the three sleepers suddenly dropped to the floor. The bolt continued about the room ripping off the wall paper and plaster beside extinguishing the light.

Not satisfied with this it went into the parlor, passed one side to the dining room and entered the kitchen where the greatest commotion occurred. Small articles on a shelf above the sink were scattered about, a celluloid hand mirror was ripped apart, and a large plate glass mirror received terrible punishment. After upsetting many other articles the fluid passed out, either through an open window or water pipe.

Examination of the bedstead showed two places on one head post as though an attack had been made with as. The spots were not over twelve inches above Mr. Cobb's pillow. The family apparently heard no report and the flash was hardly noticeable. The visitor left a trail of sulphurous smoke in the room, but no fire. Mrs. Cobb, who has been poorly for some weeks, suffered from a slight nervous shock otherwise the family escaped none the worse off physically for this unusual performance.

Both the Oxford Electric Co. and the local exchange of the New England Telephone Co. suffered considerably with burned out fuses. Their systems were disorganized for several days. Carl Foss who was running the Power Station Monday night came under a heavy bombardment as the light and power wires contacted heavy charges into the plant, making a brilliant display about the switch board. One meter was put out of commission there. Ernest Descoteau, who handles the night business at the Norway & Paris telephone exchange had a busy session from mid-night until six o'clock. The wires running west toward Bethel commenced to bring in juice which was easily killed on the switch board, early in the evening, but the big show was on while the storm was centered over Norway village. Line Supt. Harry V. Cole has been hustling this week to right matters into a normal service.

Two telephone poles were struck on Water Street and a pine in Pine Grove Cemetery close to the Oxford County Agricultural Exhibition Hall received a heavy bolt. Paris Hill was also in the danger zone and the Baptist Church suffered. The weather vane was knocked down and three sides of the tower clock put out of commission. Considerable damage was inflicted upon the big pillars on the front end. A heavy rain probably saved a serious fire. The storm came as a surprise after the cold weather for the month of August. A slight frost Sunday morning, and temperature at noon far below normal were not surface conditions indicating an immediate electrical smash-up. Previous to the display and during the storm the mercury was comparatively low.

Mrs. Alice Danforth spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Harlan Brown and family.

Mrs. Hosea McKay returned from Boston, Tuesday accompanied by her son, G. Leon Curtis, who met with a severe accident while employed on the steamboat "Noble Maxwell" for the City Fuel Co. of Boston. The young man fell from some distance striking on an iron bit, inflicting injuries which hurried him to the City Hospital. He was unconscious several days. Complete rest and quiet here will work a cure, it is hoped.

Pauline Gurney of West Medford, Mass., is the guest of Mildred Noyes this week at her home on Crescent street.

Noble's Corner

Fred Hersey is laying on the Orin Brown place, North West Norway. Woodbury and Percy Russell and Oscar Cox have bought grass of Charles Richardson and are cutting it. Hannah Hill, age 77 and blind, met with misfortune Aug. 14. As she was going to sit down, she was beyond her chair causing her to fall, striking her shoulder against the window sill breaking her collar bone.

ANDOVER

Damaged by Lightning

During the heavy electrical storm on Monday, July 29th, the barn and stable of Y. A. Thurston was struck by lightning and badly damaged. A valuable Richardson and are cutting it. The hay was set on fire at one end of the barn by prompt effort it was soon extinguished.

About fifty telephones around town were put out of commission. A number of trees were struck. It was the worst storm for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartlett received word from New York last Tuesday that their daughter, Frances, the Red Cross nurse, had sailed for France.

Jennie Cushman and Mrs. Celestine May from New York have arrived in town and are at the Homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Newhall from Philadelphia are at their summer home "The Wayside Cottage" South Andover. Howard Drumming is driving the automobile for them.

Barbara Cushman who has spent several weeks in a hospital at Philadelphia is the guest of her parents, Charles Cushman and wife at South Andover. Miss Cushman expects shortly to sail for France.

About twenty-five new books have been purchased for the Public Library. Alma Grover from Leeds is in town for the summer.

James B. Littlehall suffered a slight paralytic shock, Tuesday of last week.

Maine lumbermen and timberland owners have little of worry about forest fires this summer. The long continued rains have soaked the woods so that there is little or no danger of a start or spread and the fire wardens and patrols have but little to do. The loss by fires will be practically nothing against thousands of dollars and much expense in some years.

WAR TIME RECIPES

War-time recipes prepared for Maine housewives by Prof. Frances R. Freeman, Home Economics Director, of the United States Food Administration with headquarters at Orono:

Halibut with Mexican Sauce
Six slices of halibut, two tablespoons corn flour, two tablespoons Mexican sauce, one teaspoon Worcestershire, one and one-half cups water. Dredge halibut with corn flour and salt. Melt fat in baking dish and brown slices of halibut on top of stove. Pour water and Worcestershire over fish and bake in a moderate oven thirty-five minutes. Then pour Mexican sauce over fish, bake fifteen minutes and serve.

Mexican Sauce
Two cups tomato, one tablespoon grated onion, three tablespoons corn flour, two teaspoons salt, one-fourth cup cold water, one chopped green or red pepper. Bring tomatoes and onion to boiling point. Mix corn flour and salt with cold water and add to tomatoes, stirring constantly. Add pepper and pour over fish. Creamed Fish and Potatoes A La Cape
Cod
Three tablespoons fat, four tablespoons corn flour, two cups milk, one cup cold diced potatoes, one cup flaked cooked codfish.

Melt fat in saucepan, add corn flour, salt and pepper, remove from the fire, add milk, return to the fire and boil. Add potatoes and codfish, mix thoroughly and serve at once.

Jellied Salmon Loaf with Nippy Sauce
Two tablespoons gelatin, one-half cup cold water, two cups boiling water, one cup cooked peas, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, juice of one lemon, one can salmon.

Add cold water to gelatin, and after allowing to stand five minutes to soften, add the boiling water and stir until gelatin has dissolved. Add salt, pepper and lemon. Pour into a loaf-pan or mold which has been wet in cold water. After mixture begins to thicken, add flaked salmon and peas. Put in a cold place for several hours until firm. Serve cold with nippy sauce.

Nippy Sauce
One-half cup whipping cream, two tablespoons horseradish, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one tablespoon vinegar.

Beat the cream until stiff, add horseradish, salt, pepper and vinegar, very slowly so that mixture does not curdle. This sauce should be served immediately after making.

Baked Fish Armenian Style
Three ripe tomatoes or five tablespoons stewed tomatoes, two onions, three pounds fish meat, one-half bunch mint, salt and pepper, one-fourth cup beef fat or oil, one cup water.

Place the tomatoes and sliced onion in layers in the baking dish. Lay the skinned and boned carp in the dish and cover with a second layer of sliced onion and tomato. Sprinkle the finely chopped mint, salt and pepper over the top. Pour over this the melted fat or oil, add water, and bake in a hot oven at least half an hour or until the fish is tender.

One pint mashed potato, one cup chopped cooked fish, two teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon pepper, one-half cup milk, two tablespoons fat, two eggs.
Beat the entire mixture together and place in greased baking dish and set in a second pan containing hot water and bake in the oven until firm. Serve with tomato sauce.

Fish-Salad
Cut lengthwise three or four green sweet peppers, remove the seeds and set away to chill. Discard all skin and bones from any cold boiled fish and pick apart into suitable sized pieces for salads. Season fish with salt and pepper as needed, and sprinkle the fish with enough mayonnaise to cover it well. Fill the peppers with this mixture, letting it fall in lightly, and garnish the top of each with a slice of hard-cooked egg.

The inhabitants of Portugal are descendants of the Alains and the Visigoths, who settled in that country in the fourth century. The name "Portuguese" is derived from the original appellation of "Oporto."

Oxford Boy's Good Job
Charles N. Flood, formerly of Oxford, closed his services as superintendent of schools in Sanguis, Mass. at the monthly meeting of Sanguis school committee on Monday evening August 5. He resigned in May to accept a similar position at a higher salary, in Braintree, Mass.

The Sanguis committee adopted resolution of regret at the departure of Mr. Flood and of good wishes that he may be successful in the future. The resolutions state that "he has been thorough, and has endeavored to have the schools measure up to a high standard; his policy has been liberal and conducted on a systematic and an economical basis, above reproach and criticism; he has devoted many hours to his position without thought of time or remuneration, but only that of the good he could do for the school system and the welfare of the community, and his energetic efforts in behalf of the schools, his frank, fair, and open manner in dealing with the teachers, the public and the committee have earned respect and admiration."

Mr. Flood and his family move at once from Sanguis to Braintree. In the latter town he will begin at once on the work of preparation for the reopening of the school in September.

Mr. Flood was reared on a farm in the northeastern part of Oxford. He fitted for college at Hebron Academy, and graduated from Colby College in 1906. The next year he was principal of the high school in Waterville.

He resigned the school superintendency at Bath, a year ago, to go to Sanguis. He is a Free Mason and a member of the Baptist Church.

SOLDIERS SETTLED FOR JOY RIDE

A powerful Willys-Knight touring car loaded with Camp Devens soldiers returning from Rumford, smashed into another auto driven by William C. Allen of Buckfield and caused considerable damage to the Allen car.

The accident occurred Sunday evening at Hall's bridge on the Turner road in Buckfield. Mr. Allen saw the rapidly traveling touring car as it rounded a sharp bend in the road and was quickly convinced the driver did not have the machine under control. Allen quickly reversed and tried to back off the bridge and into the ditch from harms way.

The heavy car got him before he could make a clear line, and a smash up resulted. After briefly inspecting the damaged outfit the soldiers jumped into their machine without comment and journeyed on at a good clip.

Mr. Allen at once notified County Attorney F. B. Dyer at Buckfield, who immediately communicated with Sheriff Harry D. Cole of South Paris and Automobile Inspector Harry O. Stinson of Norway. They started at once for Lewiston.

Sheriff Stevens at Auburn was given the tip by County Attorney Dyer and he placed men out on the road at Lake Auburn, but the speed of the touring car was beyond them and they jumped the ditch as the soldier boys did not notice their signal to stop. On they went into Lewiston. The sheriff at Auburn notified the police at Lewiston and they found the boys at Wade & Duntun's garage. The joy riders were taken to Auburn where Sheriff Cole and Inspector Stinson were in waiting. After a short talk at the Sheriff's office, Cole and Stinson escorted the eight soldiers to Buckfield, arriving there about mid-night and had them settle the damage done to Mr. Allen's car. The outfit was released and returned to Camp Devens in the early morning hours a wiser bunch from this expensive week-end jubilee.

"REPEATERS" ARE WARNED AGAINST HOARDING SUGAR

Food Administrator Merrill Calls Attention to Penalties—Hoover Replied Supreme Allied Quartermaster.

Orono, Me., Aug. 8.—Although the sugar card system is being established in many sections of this State reports have reached the Maine Division of the U. S. Food Administration that some housewives, becoming panicky over the present sugar crisis, are traveling from store to store (in communities where the sugar card system has not been established) and buying sugar that they may not find themselves without a supply if an actual famine should come.

These "repeaters" are helping to create a possible famine and will upset the entire rationing plan of the Food Administration unless they buy sugar only as it is needed and limit their consumption to two pounds a month for each person in the household.

"The two pounds a month plan, if strictly adhered to, will insure an adequate supply of sugar," says Federal Food Administrator Leon S. Merrill.

"It is the aim of the Food Administration to distribute available supplies of sugar equitably. But this cannot be done if 'repeaters' persist in their unpatriotic attempts to buy more than their allowance and to hoard a supply against a potential famine. Maine has been allotted a certain amount of sugar on the basis of two pounds a month for every person in the State and it can be seen that if the 'repeaters' buy more than this they are going to cut down the allowance of their patriotic neighbors."

In this connection the Food Administration calls attention to the law against hoarding sugar, flour, and other foodstuffs. Those found guilty are liable to a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for two years or both.

Retailers in communities where the sugar card system is not in use, are warned against selling sugar to other than their regular customers and to see that an equitable distribution is made to all their customers. When a dealer suspects anyone of trying to repeat in sugar purchases he is cautioned against making the sale. Every dealer not selling sugar on the card system is now required to report each sale of sugar to the Food Administration.

FORTUNES OF WAR.

The shifting fortunes of war do not allow a general to issue in one day orders to be followed throughout a whole campaign. Herbert Hoover is really a supreme quartermaster of the whole Allied forces, combatant and non-combatant. He cannot tell today what orders will be necessary to issue next month, nor what restrictions now in force may be then safely removed. The whole American people is in the thick of a titanic fray, and the biggest job for the civilian population is to keep the fighters supplied with food. A multitude of inter-locking contingencies decide what commodities must be shipped overseas from season to season.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Recently when an American was visiting one of the workshops in Belgium where 800 girls were employed to repair clothing sent by America for the refugees, one of the girls fainter.

After the girl had been revived, the American asked the matron if this was a common occurrence.

"Oh, yes, Monsieur," was the answer, "over a dozen faint a day always and sometimes many more than that."

The American looked around the room at the drawn, blue-lipped faces. Then it occurred to him to ask the girls what they had had for breakfast.

His question disclosed the fact that nearly all of these girls had had only a cup of Toroline for their morning meal. This is the only beverage that can be bought in Belgium today and is an unpalatable, murky liquid made of roasted rye.

Compare the breakfast you had this morning with the breakfast of these Belgian girls. Can you sit down again to your wholesome and satisfying morning meal without first assuring yourself that you are doing all in your power to feed those in Europe whose cause is our cause, but whose suffering from this cause is so far beyond our own?

Ask yourself frankly, "What am I doing to help?"

"Using less sugar," you say.

How much less? A few teaspoonsful? Or can you measure your savings in pounds?

Be fair to those who are suffering so much for this cause, trusting that you in America will do your utmost for the same cause, even if it does mean the sacrifice of a lump of sugar or a few slices of bread a day.

Be fair to your better self that demands your best efforts in food conservation instead of your least, in order to keep your self respect.

If you want metal for hobbets, we have it and will sell it at a reasonable price. Advertiser, Norway, Me.

Leola Schoff and Florence Leach have been attending the Epworth League Institute at the Poland camp ground since Monday.

The local board was in wire communication with the Portland police headquarters Wednesday afternoon regarding Valentine Adams of Rumford Falls, who was arrested at the soldiers' training camp at New Hampshire college, Wednesday and held on a charge of being an alien enemy. He was employed as a laborer and claimed to have registered as an alien at Rumford Falls. No registrant with that name had been found in the office late Wednesday.

Sixteen boys from a summer school camp in Waterville, with Roy Cole and Mr. Hubbard as leaders, camped several days on Charles W. Bowker's lot in the rear of his residence. The party made side trips including Mt. Mica and historic Paris Hill. A Cadillac and Ford were used for transportation, considerable sport was had when lots were cast at each trip for a seat in the "big car."

Paris grange was called to order by W. M. Dudley at 2 p. m., Saturday, Aug. 3, only a few members were present. Children's day will be observed Aug. 17, when a picnic will be held in Ames' grove. The regular meeting will be held in the hall at 8 p. m. A full attendance is desired.

PREPARATIONS FOR COMING REGISTRATION

Orders have been received at the Local Board to start the machinery for the coming registration to be held probably in September, ages not yet determined. Large business is anticipated which will require extensive preparation with a short time limit after passage of the legislation by Congress and the President's proclamation to follow.

The Governors in all states will supervise the registration in their respective states and the Adjutant General or Draft Executive of each state, acting under the direction of the Governor, will be the central administrative authority of the registration system.

Local boards have authority over the registration within their respective jurisdiction, the listing to be made in the customary voting precincts.

Each local board will appoint registrars at once, one member for each probable 80 registrants in the precinct. This will require one and one-third more workers than were used in June, 1917. They must reside within the district and well acquainted with the residents. A compensation will be given if necessary, but it is hoped a sense of patriotic duty will prompt the majority to give their services so far as possible.

On the first registration day volunteers for clerical duties and interpreters to hasten the work will be accepted. A fixed compensation will be allowed those not able to give their services.

Owners of buildings in cities or large towns can do a patriotic act by offering suitable quarters during registration where several precincts exist.

Oxford Boy's Good Job
Charles N. Flood, formerly of Oxford, closed his services as superintendent of schools in Saugus, Mass., at the monthly meeting of Saugus school committee on Monday evening August 5. He resigned in May to accept a similar position at a higher salary, in Braintree, Mass.

The Saugus committee adopted resolution of regret at the departure of Mr. Flood and of good wishes that he may be successful in the future. The resolutions state that "he has been thorough, and practical, in all his administrative work, and has endeavored to give the schools measure up to a high standard; his policy has been liberal and conducted on a systematic and an economical basis, above reproach and criticism; he has devoted many hours to his position without thought of time or remuneration, but only that of the good he could do for the school system and the welfare of the community, and his energetic efforts in behalf of the schools, his frank, fair and open manner in dealing with the teachers, and the public and the committee have earned respect and admiration."

Compare the breakfast you had this morning with the breakfast of these Belgian girls. Can you sit down again to your wholesome and satisfying morning meal without first assuring yourself that you are doing all in your power to feed those in Europe whose cause is our cause, but whose suffering from this cause is so far beyond our own?

Ask yourself frankly, "What am I doing to help?"

Using less sugar," you say.

How much less? A few teaspoonfuls? Or can you measure your savings in pounds?

Be fair to those who are suffering so much for this cause, trusting that you in America will do your utmost for the same cause, even if it does mean the sacrifice of a lump of sugar or a few slices of bread a day.

Be fair to your better self that demands your best efforts in food conservation instead of your least, in order to keep your self respect.

"REPEATERS" ARE WARNED AGAINST HOARDING SUGAR

Food Administrator Merrill Calls Attention to Penalties—Hoover Realigns Supreme Allied Quartermaster.

Orono, Me., Aug. 8.—Although the sugar card system is being established in many sections of this State reports have reached the Maine Division of the U. S. Food Administration that some housewives, becoming panicky over the present sugar crisis, are traveling from store to store (in communities where the sugar card system has not been established) and buying sugar that they may not find themselves without a supply if an actual famine should come.

These "repeaters" are helping to create a possible famine and will upset the entire rationing plan of the Food Administration unless they buy sugar only as it is needed and limit their consumption to two pounds a month for each person in the household.

"The two pounds a month plan, if strictly adhered to, will insure an adequate supply of sugar," says Federal Food Administrator Leon S. Merrill. "It is the aim of the Food Administration to distribute available supplies of sugar equitably. But this cannot be done if 'repeaters' persist in their unpatriotic attempts to buy more than their allowance and to hoard a supply against a potential famine. Maine has been allotted a certain amount of sugar on the basis of two pounds a month for every person in the State and it can be seen that the 'repeaters' buy more than this they are going to cut down the allowance of their patriotic neighbors."

In this connection the Food Administration calls attention to the law against hoarding sugar, flour, and other foodstuffs. Those found guilty are liable to a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for two years or both.

Retailers in communities where the sugar card system is not in use, are warned against selling sugar to other than their regular customers and to see that an equitable distribution is made to all their customers. When a dealer suspects anyone of trying to repeat in sugar purchases he is cautioned against making the sale. Every dealer not selling sugar on the card system is now required to report each sale of sugar to the Food Administration.

FORTUNES OF WAR.

The shifting fortunes of war do not allow a general to issue in one day orders to be followed throughout a whole campaign. Herbert Hoover is really a supreme quartermaster of the whole Allied forces, combatant and non-combatant. He cannot tell today what orders will be necessary to issue next month, nor what restrictions now in force may be then safely removed. The whole American people is in the thick of a titanic fray, and the biggest job for the civilian population is to keep the fighters supplied with food. A multitude of inter-locking contingencies, decide what commodities must be shipped overseas from season to season.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Recently when an American was visiting one of the workshops in Belgium where 300 girls were employed to repair clothing sent by America for the refugees, one of the girls faints.

After the girl had been revived, the American asked the matron if this was a common occurrence.

"Oh, yes, Monsieur," was the answer, "over a dozen faint a day always and sometimes many more than that."

The American looked around the room at the drawn, blue-lipped faces. Then it occurred to him to ask the girls what they had had for breakfast.

His question disclosed the fact that nearly all of these girls had had only a cup of Toroline for their morning meal. This is the only beverage that can be bought in Belgium today and is an unpalatable, murky liquid made of roasted rye.

Compare the breakfast you had this morning with the breakfast of these Belgian girls. Can you sit down again to your wholesome and satisfying morning meal without first assuring yourself that you are doing all in your power to feed those in Europe whose cause is our cause, but whose suffering from this cause is so far beyond our own?

During their visit Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sprague's parents have entertained their whole family together, which hasn't happened before for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Maxim of Falmouth Foreside were also guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Briggs and two children, Mary and Marjorie, made an automobile trip to Wilton, Sunday, all returning at night but Mr. Briggs, who remained and entered upon his duties for Wilton Trust Company on Monday.

Among those home from Bath over the week-end were Merton Millett, Walter Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Andrews, William Bray and Carroll Edwards.

Leola Schoff and Florence Leach have been attending the Epworth League Institute at the Poland camp ground since Monday.

The local board was in wire communication with the Portland police headquarters Wednesday afternoon regarding Valentine Adams of Rumford Falls, who was arrested at the soldiers' training camp at New Hampshire college, Wednesday and held on a charge of being an alien enemy. He was employed as a laborer, and claimed to have registered as an alien at Rumford Falls. No registrant with that name had been found in the office late Wednesday.

Sixteen boys from a summer school camp in Waterville with Roy Cole and Mrs. Hubbard as leaders, camped several days on Charles W. Bowker's lot in the rear of his residence. The party made side trips including Mt. Mica and historic Paris Hill. A Cadillac and Ford were used for transportation, considerable sport was had when lots were cast at each trip for a seat in the "big car."

Paris grange was called to order by W. M. Dudley at 2 p. m., Saturday, Aug. 3, only a few members were present. Children's day will be observed Aug. 17, when a picnic will be held in Ames' grove. The regular meeting will be held in the hall at 8 p. m. A full attendance is desired.

PREPARATIONS FOR COMING REGISTRATION

Orders have been received at the Local Board to start the machinery for the coming registration to be held probably in September, ages not yet determined. Large business is anticipated which will require extensive preparation with a short time limit after passage of the legislation by Congress and the President's proclamation to follow.

The Governors in all states will supervise the registration in their respective states and the Adjutant General or Draft Executive of each state, acting under the direction of the Governor, will be the central administrative authority of the registration system.

Local boards have authority over the registration within their respective jurisdiction, the listing to be made in the customary voting precincts.

Each local board will appoint registrars at once, one member for each probable 80 registrants in the precinct. This will require one and one-third more workers than were used in June, 1917. They must reside within the district and well acquainted with the residents. A compensation will be given if necessary, but it is hoped a sense of patriotic duty will prompt the majority to give their services so far as possible.

On the first registration day volunteers for clerical duties and interpreters to hasten the work will be accepted. A fixed compensation will be allowed those not able to give their services.

Owners of buildings in cities or large towns can do a patriotic act by offering suitable quarters during registration where several precincts exist.

Norway Boy Playing Strong Shoe Game

Edward Kerwin of New, Mass., is the author of three strong tried articles which appeared in the Weekly Bulletin of Leather and Shoe News, June 15.

This magazine is considered the leading shoe publication in the country. Mr. Kerwin attacks the vital question from the following articles: "Substitution and Subterfuge," "Wages," "Wear and Tear." He is well qualified to discuss the matter having started this big shoe game from the ground floor and worked through every department until reaching the position as cog and system man with Joseph M. Herman, the well known army shoe manufacturer. This place he has held more than three years and is considered a live wire by prominent shoe and leather men.

Mr. Kerwin is the son of Michael Kerwin, was born in Norway and lived here several years. He graduated from Bridgton Academy, received a thorough training at the English High at Boston and secured a Harvard diploma in 1907. A four year's course was completed in three years and he visited the field with the intention of becoming an instructor.

Following a tip he gave up the idea and entered the manufacturing whirl pool. His first experience was in the B. F. Spinyer & Co. factory at Norway, but greater opportunities came to him from Massachusetts, which he accepted.

During the past ten years he has traveled steadily upward until his name means authority in the shoe manufacturing trade. One of his many progressive ideas is the Kerwin Cutting system which revolutionized that department.

Changing the expensive haphazard slashing to a strictly scientific and mathematical method. It has eliminated expensive waste and produces the highest possible efficiency with a dependable cost sheet.

Although a specialist in the cutting department he has branched out into other important branches in the business. His advanced ideas gained from a critical first hand study while making shoes, is being applied throughout the large factory. Justice to all concerned is the slogan and this is the reason for the successful career of the firm against keen competition and unsettled labor conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pike and son, Donald of Mansfield, Mass., are the guests of his father, Frank T. Pike. They made the trip by auto.

Katherine Jones and Hilda DeWolf of Lewiston are spending a few weeks with Agnes Fuller at the Fuller Farm in Oxford.

Paul S. Seavey went to Chichester, N. H. Thursday to visit relatives.

Edmund and Keith, are in Fryeburg, having enlisted in the engineering corps.

Roland G. Kimball has enlisted in the Mechanical Engineering Department for automobile work and will take a six weeks' course at Dartmouth College.

He will visit his parents until August 15. Doris Foster who has been spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Clarence Cole at Bryant's Pond and her brother, Cyril Foster at Gorham, N. H. left Thursday for South Windham for a few weeks' visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Flint and Alanson Daves of Paris street, leave Saturday in their automobile for Old Orchard, where they will occupy the Andrews cottage for several weeks.

Mrs. Herbert Bradbury and children, Thelma and Keith, are in Fryeburg, visiting her sister.

Fanny Crooker of Dorchester, Mass., is spending the month of August in town, she is rooming at Dr. H. L. Bartlett's.

Mrs. Alice Marston who has been visiting several weeks in Danville and Jackson, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Fogg received word that Corp. Percy Y. Fogg has arrived in France. Corp. Linwood Fogg has been transferred to Washington, D. C. from New Castle, Me. He is attached to the supply department, military aeronautics, and has recently been promoted to corporal.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cordwell and family of Hebron have retired from their farm, and boarding at Royal Cordwell's in Ward 8 while Ned Buck and Henry Vanocourt run the lines.

A petition has been signed by the residents in Ward 8 for a larger combination mail and parcel post box. The regulation collection box is too small for business, frequently mail is crowded out as the receptacle becomes clogged.

The new base ball diamond was laid out Thursday evening on the circus lot, in the rear of the Catholic church. This field has been secured by the Cobblers' League, where their games will be played in the future. Fred Buck and Henry Vanocourt run the lines.

Carrie S. Martin of Augusta commenced work Monday morning as stenographer for Hon. B. G. McIntire and family at Mrs. A. S. Kimball's. Miss Martin has formerly been employed at the State House, Augusta.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Gurney and children passed Sunday with his brother, Earl Gurney at West Minot.

The Walter F. Tubbs snow-shoe factory is busily engaged filling large orders for their famous shoes and skis. They have been rushing business through hot weather and expect to have everything delivered as promised before real winter reaches New England. The business which has increased during the past year by long leaps can be easily handled as Mr. Tubbs enlarged his plant last season to meet this emergency and assembled a big stock of material.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Thayer of Bristol, N. H., formerly of Norway, are receiving the congratulations upon the arrival of an eight pound daughter, Aug. 1. Miriam Elizabeth is the name given the young miss.

Charles E. Gilbert and family spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Joseph O. Fitter at East Otisfield.

The Knights of Pythias lodge are preparing information cards to be placed in Beals Tavern office and public places for the convenience of visiting Knights, who might be in town when the lodge convenes.

Two new potatoes weighing 11 ounces each from F. P. Stone's war garden are on exhibition in the drug store window. Undoubtedly these are a fair sample of his products and represent the average yield for the garden.

Mrs. Charles W. Wael is at Poland Camp ground to remain until the potatoes are over.

The steam cement mixer which has been stored on Greenleaf avenue since Main street was completed last year, was fired up Tuesday and went on its own power to the station. It was loaded on a flat car Wednesday and shipped to Bath.

Dr. Trufant's Hospital remains open to physicians to treat their patients and is not closed as has been stated.

MOTHERS TO BE

Should Read Mrs. Monahan's Letter Published by Her Permission.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good as Mrs. PEARL MONAHAN, Mitchell, Ind."

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Ellen L. Owen

Ellen L. Owen, one of Norway's oldest residents passed away Friday morning, Aug. 2, at 3 o'clock. Her age was 89 years. Although Miss Owen has been in rather feeble health for several years, she was confined to her bed but a short time as the result from a severe attack of whooping cough. She had been remarkably smart for one of her years and did considerable knitting. Her mind was clear and she kept in touch with current events to a remarkable degree.

The deceased was born in Portland, July 2, 1829, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Owen. After completing her education she was a successful teacher in her native city. Some years after retiring, came to Norway with her sister, Martha Owen about thirty years ago. Martha died December 11, 1903 and for fourteen years Lizzie Sawyer has lived with Miss Owen and tenderly cared for her in her declining years. Several nephews and nieces survive.

Services were held at her late home on Beal street, Sunday afternoon. Rev. G. Howard Newton of the South Paris Baptist church officiated. Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Howard of Biddeford and E. C. Owen of Portland were the relatives who attended. Interment in the Evergreen Cemetery, Portland.

Mrs. Herman E. Wilson was organist at the Methodist church, Sunday. Berenice Nash was soloist.

Mrs. Louise Young is taking a two weeks' vacation from the shoe factory. She was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Roberts on Spring street, Portland, who formerly made their home in Norway.

An automobile party which included Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobs, Mrs. Lilian Worthen and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frost made a 150 mile trip Sunday. They visited Bryant's Pond, Rumford, Dixfield, Livermoreton, Monday afternoon. At Livermoreton a picnic dinner was served in the open air and the trip proved enjoyable.

A large delegation from the shoe factory gave Ned Truman and G. Walter Poindester a farewell at the Norway and South Paris station Monday afternoon as they enroute for Camp Devens. Both have been shoe makers and popular in the factories. Mr. Truman leaves a wife and four young children but claimed no exemption in 1917, when he registered, therefore was placed in Class I. Mrs. Truman is patriotic and willing to do her part to keep the family together if her husband should be called into the service. This should be an object lesson to many deliberate slackers who have far less excuse for exemption.

Robert P. Bickford is now in New York this week for business and pleasure. E. Knox Bickford has charge of the gem and Food Administration business during his absence.

John E. Spencer was called to his home in Manchester, N. H., Monday morning by the sudden illness of his mother. Fred Buck, who dislocated the bones at the elbow while playing ball on the fair grounds, Saturday afternoon, has been unable to work in the shoe factory this week. The injury is improving rapidly and he expects no permanent trouble.

EAST OXFORD

Mary A. Stone, who has been visiting her friend, Mrs. E. O. Sands has returned to Rumford.

Mrs. Emma B. White, Mrs. Frank Combs, Jennie Combs, Robert O. Combs and son, Randall, and Clyde Combs of Lisbon Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Healy of Norway Lake were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. Sands. Lillian McKee of Auburn spent the week-end at her parental home.

A. J. Billings of Norway visited at his father's, P. J. Billings', Sunday.

WHY A DOG TURNS AROUND

Sheep, when frightened, always run to an elevation, because their ancestors originally came from the mountains. They always follow a leader, because in the dangerous mountain passes their ancestors had to go in single file. Hogs grunt because, their feeding grounds were thick woods, where they could not see one another, and sound was necessary to keep them together. Dogs have a way of turning around several times before they lie down. They look very foolish now, but when they were wild things centuries ago they slept in the tall grass and turned around several times to follow out a lead, and they have never outgrown this habit, but to this day they will turn around on a rug just as if they were in the tall grass. Cats have perhaps, the most traces of ancestral habits. Many times they do have a trace of the lion or tiger very near the surface. Their uncertain purring, their purring and growling and their sudden bounds, their tendency to scratch, all come from the forest and the jungle.

Dermont Fox and Clarence Bennett are helping Leon Bennett in the hay field.

A dance as usual Friday night at the hall in Wentworth location, which gives car owners a chance once a week for business.

E. S. Bennett went to Umbagog Lake Saturday.

The sudden change in the weather makes it seem like fall.

Deaths of Two Sisters

Died at her home in Ansonia, Conn., July 30, Martha B. Wilson, widow of A. J. Whittemore, both former residents of this place. Mrs. Whittemore was the youngest daughter of Capt. John Wilson.

She is survived by one son, Arthur E. Whittemore, and two daughters, Grace and Eva Whittemore.

Five days later, July 25, Mrs. Mary Wilson Bennett, widow of Gilman Bennett, died at her home, 74 Pineknay street, Boston, aged 87 years.

Early in May she suffered a shock from which she never rallied. She was the eldest daughter of the late Capt. John M. Wilson and granddaughter of Major Nathaniel Wilson of Westbrook. She was a woman of great strength of mind and originality of character; her artistic taste was shown in her beautiful penmanship, which was unsurpassed even at the age of 87, an able writer in her earlier years before the stern necessities of life turned her attention to other things; a helper of the unfortunate, a sympathizer in all noble and loyal work; her patriotism burned as a living flame to the last.

Love of the truth and right was the spirit of her long and useful life. She is survived by four sons, Eugene A., S. Wilson, Rudolph B. and Gilman M. Bennett and one daughter, Mrs. Lena Lowder.

SOUTH ALBANY

Herman Holt has finished haying on the Highland farm and Walter Canwell has got all done on the Valley farm which he bought last spring.

Berkley Henley has been at work for Merritt Savin several days the past week.

Bad weather and lack of help makes haying a slow season. Some pieces of grain are beginning to ripen and will have to be cut soon. We hope for better weather before it has to be done for it will be hard work to get it in good condition unless we have good bright weather as nearly all pieces are heavy and headed well and promise a good yield.

A light frost was reported on low lands Saturday night. It seems hard luck to have a frost now as many of the gardens were injured by the late freeze last spring and had to be replanted and consequently are late and another one now will put them back badly again.

Mrs. James A. Kimball recently received the sad news that her grandnephew, Herbert Beau, had been wounded while in action somewhere in France. They have heard nothing later so are in hopes it will not prove fatal, although just how serious of course they do not know as yet.

Guy McAllister's hand is still improving.

Charles York is at work on the new spoil mill at North Waterford.

J. W. Dresser and wife of North Waterford visited at Merritt Savin's, Saturday night.

There seems to be a lack of things to can as well as sugar to can with. There are very few berries, no plums or pears around here and at other places the conditions are the same. It seems as though the cans would have to be filled with vegetables corn, etc. Perhaps that would be more real help to the Food question.

Mrs. Martha Savin and Mrs. Effie Lord and daughter, Helen of North Waterford, also Mrs. Arthur Millett and three children of Waterford, with Dorothy Pitt of Quincy, were at Merritt Savin's, Friday.

Mrs. E. B. Hersey and granddaughter, Louise Hersey, with Mabel Kingsbury of North Waterford, were at the same place the same day. Miss Kingsbury has been a successful teacher in Providence, R. I., and vicinity for a good many years and is still at the same place.

George Cummings and son, Herman, were in this place Sunday morning. Herman Cummings was drafted last spring and went to Camp Devens. Soon after he got there he was operated on for enlarged glands in his neck and as the wound did not heal satisfactorily he was given an honorable discharge and sent home. He has improved sufficiently to enable him to go to work and is at Norway at work in the shoe factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden Savin of Waterford and sister, Lottie Savin of North Waterford, who is visiting them, were at Merritt Savin's, Sunday.

Did NOT BORROW TO BUY BONDS

The Federal Reserve Bulletin says that one of the most encouraging and gratifying features of the Third Liberty Loan is that apparently there has been little use of bank accommodations for the purchase of the bonds. It estimates that probably at more than 80 per cent of the bonds are already fully paid for.

The financial statements of the various Federal reserve banks indicate, according to the Bulletin, that not much borrowing from the banks was done by the subscribers to the third loan. They either paid cash or bought on the installment plan.

This is a great deal the burden of the banks, upon whose shoulders rests the financing of the business and industry of the country.

Feeding soldiers in the cantonments and abroad is taking a large proportion of the Country's farm products. August requirements of the Army, the Department of Agriculture estimated, will call for 25,157,000 pounds of potatoes and 1,751,000 pounds of onions and cantonments. Government requirements are expected to call for one-third of the output of canned tomatoes, 25 per cent of string beans, about 60 per cent of the salmon pack, one-half the output of canned cherries and one-half that of dried peaches.

BOILER'S MILLS

Mrs. Anna Perley and Mrs. Sybil Lamb of Otisfield were in the place Sunday.

Charles Summer Cook and daughter Lydia were week-end guests at the old home here.

Jason Scribner was in Rumford Friday and called on Rev. William Laite.

Ralph Haskell and family who have visited their relatives here, have returned to their home in Massachusetts.

Miss Briggs has received official notice that his son, Frank Lawrence, who is in France, is severely wounded.

Helen Clark has as guest Hilda De Wolf, a former classmate. Miss Clark will teach languages at Bridgton High School this fall.

Mrs. George Hancock of Norway with relatives from New Hampshire, took John Hancock's family to Old Orchard, Sunday.

Several from this village and vicinity went to Pleasant Mountain blueberrying, Thursday. They report fine scenery but a tremendously hard climb, and big day's work.

A large delegation from the local grange attended Frederick Robie grange meeting. They report a very fine time.

Charles Grover conveyed the party. Jason Scribner and wife attended the recent session of Chautauqua at Norway, stopping in Lee Smith's house with Ruth Smith, the other members of Mr. Smith's family being in Camp. Over thirty people of our village attended one or more sessions of the Chautauqua.

Marjorie Scribner came home from Paris Hill where she is passing the summer for the week-end and attended the grange meeting Saturday evening.

George Cummings has his usual very fine garden this season, despite the wet weather, frost etc. He dined on sweet corn, July 29th, and had new potatoes July 4th, peas considerably earlier. Mr. Cummings will pass his 80th birthday soon but can outdo all the younger men in gardening. He had his haying done in June.

The Ladies Aid was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Addie Lord, on the hill, Thursday afternoon. The attendance was small as all are so busy now.

The hostess served most delicious ice-cream and sponge cake.

Orion Black has been seen on the road a number of times lately in his new auto. James Lord and Curtis Chapman have been exchanging work during haying.

FAKE RELIEF SOLICITORS

This is an era of high prices. Bankers and financiers generally tell us there is plenty of money in circulation. Not usually in cash times people are inclined to loosen up on the purse strings. This is commendable, especially in view of the many calls that are being made on the generosity of the public.

But if we are not very careful, much of our charity will be misplaced. There are legitimate calls that we must meet, and we can not afford to be humbugged. The government must be financed, the Red Cross and kindred organizations must be supported, and it will take every dollar we can rake together to meet these demands.

Aside from these legitimate demands, though, every now and then we are importuned to give to this, that and the other so-called "relief" scheme. People with more "patriotism" than brains conceive that the soldiers are not being properly cared for, and a "bazaar" is promoted to give the needed relief. The people out of their loyalty and generosity respond liberally with the result that if the promoters are honest and disinterested, the soldier boys are deluged with a lot of junk for which they have no earthly use. In many cases, however, the promoters are "interested" more in themselves than in the boys, in which case the proceeds are mainly eaten up in the form of salaries and expenses.

The government has issued instructions for all the auxiliary work it wishes the people at large to assist in carrying on, and it will be well for all to read up on these instructions, that they be not duped. Not every young enthusiast who can scare up a red, white and blue sash and take a collection for a "cause" is to be encouraged.

There are, as we have said, legitimate channels through which our relief can be bestowed, and we should be very careful to see that it goes through these channels, that it may be sure of reaching the object for which it is given.

THE BOOSTER

What would your town amount to without the booster? Ever stop to ask yourself whether you are boosting or just hanging on?

The booster is the fellow who takes hold of a forlorn hope and, by his cheerful optimism and bull-dog perseverance keeps hammering away till he accomplishes his object.

Little difficulties do not trouble the booster. He fattens on them. He is so red-blooded that he scorns an easy walk over in any undertaking. He usually hunts for game worth while, and in all such hunts the difficulties are numerous and great. But he goes at them with a will to win, and will is the only quality under God's heaven that will win.

The booster doesn't see the faults and failings of your town, or if he does see them, he passes them by with a smile and a cheerful prophecy that they will soon be remedied. He sees only the bright side, and he so constantly plays up that bright side that after awhile you just naturally come to the conclusion that it far outweighs the dark, which is very sensible of you, though you should have been helping him all along to bury the dark and hold up the light.

But don't get it under your hat that boasting is boosting. The two are as widely different as daylight and dark. The booster is satisfied, the booster is ever reaching out for more. The booster proudly calls attention to what we have, but the booster calls attention to what we can have if we display sufficient energy. The booster lives in the glory of the present, but the booster is ever looking to the future and planning new and greater achievements. Be a booster. Get under the load and help "tote."
